

HERRINGBONE TRAY

Designer Jamie Drake re-imagines the classic herringbone pattern for this one-of-a-kind black and white tray. It's created with traditional verre eglomise craft techniques: the design is reverse-painted on glass, then mounted on wood. The edges are trimmed in gold leaf for a touch of "glam." Made in Peru. Please be aware that tiny bubbles may randomly appear within an item. This is part of the handmade nature of our production and is not considered defective.
